application information

about

The Alley Fellowship is a two-month rotating exhibition and lecture fellowship open to emerging, young, progressive artists in Los Angeles. The Fellowship will be awarded to the six artists who best embody the spirit of transdisciplinary creative exploration which RCHS and A+D aim to promote. The selected fellows will receive logistic, curatorial, and financial support to implement a design installation within the Alley Gallery at A+D. Each participant will then present their installation, their thoughts, process, and creative viewpoints with a lecture at Rios Clementi Hale Studios where they will also serve as an Artist in Residence during the fellowship. The Fellows will be selected by a seven-member jury consisting of artists, designers, and architects from the A+D family and Rios Clementi Hale Studios.

application requirements

Each application should include a clear concept and theme to be investigated through the fellowship. Each application should include the following:

1. The attached application form filled out completely
2. Five images of past work (does not have to be tied to avenue of research)
3. Proposal of work to be researched
4. One reference
5. A list of any dates that you would not be available during the upcoming 12 month cycle.
6. A description of how the financial stipend will be used during the investigation.

decision making process

The applications will be reviewed on an ongoing basis and will be accepted as such. A committee made up of members from both Rios Clementi Hale Studios and the A+D Museum will review and decide on applications. Initial announcements will begin in the summer and will continue throughout the year.
